INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors
The American Philological Association
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of The American Philological Association (a nonprofit organization) as of June 30, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Association's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The American Philological Association at June 30, 2007 and 2006, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2007 and 2006

(1) NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The American Philological Association (the "Association") is a nonprofit organization founded in 1869 by "professors, friends and patrons of linguistic science." It is now the principal learned society in North America for the study of ancient Greek and Roman languages, literatures and civilizations. While the majority of its members are university and college classics teachers and libraries, members also include scholars in other disciplines, primary and secondary school teachers and interested lay people. For over a century, this community has relied on the Association to produce several series of scholarly books and texts; the journal, Transactions of the American Philological Association; and an annual meeting in conjunction with the Archaeological Institute of America. In addition, the Association fosters programs to reassert the importance of primary and secondary school teaching and provide more support for improved pedagogy at all levels of teaching; improves working conditions and scholarly opportunities for university and college teachers; increases communication with audiences beyond its membership; makes sure the Association's research program is appropriate for the needs of the profession; and coordinates and systematizes data collection in order to provide an accessible and reliable information base to support Association goals.

The Association is now conducting a capital campaign to raise an Endowment for Classics Research and Teaching that will enable it to create sophisticated and accessible research tools for classics teachers and scholars; develop the next generation of inspired, diverse teachers of classics and classical languages; and support wider public understanding and appreciation of classical civilization.

(2) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. Accordingly, revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

Financial Statement Presentation

The Association reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets as follows:

Unrestricted net assets

Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions.

Temporarily restricted net assets

Net assets that are subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be satisfied by actions of the Association and/or the passage of time. When a restriction is satisfied, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as "net assets released from restrictions."

Permanently restricted net assets

Net assets that are subject to donor-imposed restrictions that neither expire by passage of time, nor can be satisfied by actions of the Association.

Accounting Estimates

In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2007 and 2006

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments which potentially subject the Association to concentrations of credit risk are cash and accounts receivable. The Association maintains its cash at various high-quality financial institutions. At times, these deposits may exceed federally insured limits. The composition of grants and contributions is disclosed in Note 3. Other accounts receivable consist primarily of membership dues, royalties and placement fees.

Inventory

Inventory is reported at cost using the first-in, first-out method and consists primarily of books.

Investments

Investments in equity securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are reported at fair value, as determined by quoted market prices, with gains and losses included in the statement of activities. Dividend and interest income is recorded as earned. Restricted investment income whose restrictions are satisfied in the same period are reported as unrestricted.

The Association invests in a professionally managed portfolio that includes various types of securities (See Note 4). Such investments are exposed to market and credit risk. Due to the level of risk associated with such investments and the level of uncertainty related to changes in the value of such investments, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the near term would materially affect investment balances and the amounts reported in the financial statements.

Equipment

The Association capitalizes expenditures for equipment in excess of $500. Equipment is reported at cost if purchased, or at fair value on the date of donation if donated. Depreciation is recorded using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Fellowships Payable

Unconditional fellowships authorized but unpaid at year-end are reported as liabilities. The fellowships payable at June 30, 2007 are expected to be paid in 2008.

Membership Dues

Membership dues are recognized as revenue in the year to which they relate. Accordingly, membership dues received in advance of the applicable year are included in deferred revenue in the accompanying statement of financial position.

Grants and Contributions

Grants and contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted or permanently restricted net assets depending on the absence or existence and nature of any donor restrictions. Donor-restricted grants and contributions whose restrictions are satisfied in the same period are reported as unrestricted.

Unconditional grants and contributions are recognized as revenue when the related promise to give is received. Conditional grants and contributions are recognized as revenue when the conditions are satisfied.

The Association receives a significant amount of donated time from a substantial number of volunteers without compensation for its various program and supporting services. The financial statements do not reflect the value of these contributed services since they do not meet the criteria for recognition.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2007 and 2006

Annual Meeting

The Association holds its annual meeting with another learned society, the Archaeological Institute of America ("AIA"). Registrants pay a single registration fee and may attend sessions organized by either society. The Association administers registration and the overall meeting schedule; AIA administers the exhibit show and certain joint events. Revenue from registration fees and the exhibit show and certain expenses are shared equally by the two societies. However, each society is individually responsible for the costs of putting on its own sessions and also retains all revenue for its own publications or special events. These financial statements include the joint activities that are shared by the two societies and the Association's separate activities that occur during the annual meeting. AIA's share of the joint activities is reported as "cosponsor share of joint revenue" in the accompanying statements of functional expenses.

Special Projects

During 2004, the Association received a grant of $256,000 from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation to develop improvements to the database architecture of the online version of l'Annee philologique and to test the possibility of self-submission of materials to the database by authors and publishers. This project concluded in 2007. All costs attributable to this project are categorized as a "Special Projects" expense in the statements of activities and functional expenses.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and supporting services have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Accordingly, certain expenses have been allocated based upon the programs and supporting services benefited.

Income Taxes

The Association is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code; therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes is included in the accompanying financial statements.

(3) GRANTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

Grants and contributions receivable at June 30 consisted of the following:

	2007	2006
Grants receivable from the National Endowment for the Humanities	$169,178	$286,889
Contributions receivable from individuals for the Endowment for Classics Research and Teaching (See Note 7)	193,550	103,050
	$362,728	$389,939

The grants and contributions receivable are expected to be collected as follows:

In less than one year	$244,778
In one to five years	138,950
	383,728
Less discount to present value (at 6%)	21,000
	$362,728

The Association has also received conditional grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities in the amount of $640,000. The Association must raise matching contributions of $2,500,000 by January 31, 2011 in order to receive these grants.
